

Daniela Danica Tepes - Nothing Can Surprise Us

23 April – 6 July 2015

The exhibition represents since 1979, collages have been made from magazines and political commercials. They contain various records, opinions and impressions related to different events and are a kind of visual diary. The collages reflect changes in history, politics, postcolonialism, diasporas, globalization, technology and all the undreamed paths of World that have occurred until today – until the use of modern technologies.

Daniela Danica Tepes born in 1963 is a Slovenian visual artist living and working in Ljubljana and Berlin. She is graduated at the Academy of Visual Arts Ljubljana. Since 1979 she has worked in the arts under the pseudonym. Later, she added her real name to the pen name. She is known for creating works of art that indicate duality.
