

Daniela Danica Tepes - Who Is Brainwashing Us

6 March – 21 May 2016

This exhibition and installation can be seen as an illusion of duality, whereby the artist shows us that nothing is as it seems at first glance. The aim and focus of the method of visual expression is chiefly to involve and combine a range of artistic practices and the latest media in the context of the visual component. The objective is to creatively experiment with, and build on, the proposed research subject through critical analyses, and develop the ability to adapt it to various pitfalls of the policies of our time.

Daniela Danica Tepes born in 1963 is a Slovenian visual artist living and working in Ljubljana and Berlin. She is graduated at the Academy of Visual Arts Ljubljana. Since 1979 she has worked in the arts under the pseudonym. Later, she added her real name to the pen name. She is known for creating works of art that indicate duality.
