The exhibition Flash of Nature featured paintings, photographs, sculptures, videos and installations by 82 contemporary artists coming from 18 different countries (Australia, Chile, Cuba, Germany, Japan, Great Britain, Israel, Italy, Macedonia, Mexico, Netherlands, Poland, Russia, Slovenia, Spain, United States, Sweden, Switzerland) and in essence presented through a sequence of sublime images the present day symbols of the force and the beauty of Mother Nature. Through the eyes of international artists (such as Ed Rucha, Nan Goldin, Robert Rauschenberg, Anton Corbijn, Robert Longo, Mat Collishaw, Gianni Berengo Gardin, Ana Mendieta, Jim Dine, Alfredo Jarr to name a few) showed animals, plants and the natural world in all its splendor, beauty, power and perfection. Realistic imagery produced by contemporary artists provided an instantly recognizable map of the natural world, free from changes in fashion or the technological input of man.
