Galerie Voller Leerraum is pleased to present the solo exhibition by visual artist Daniela Danica Tepes The Driving Force Survival and Manifestations of the Impossible. The exhibition presents different views, research, and the establishment of relationships between art, science, and technology. The interactive installation can be seen as an illusion of duality, whereby the artist shows us that nothing is as it seems at first glance. The artistic elements used in the artwork include sound, interactive installation, light, color, space, and material.
